THEIR EXCELLENCIES' MISSIVE

Greetings from Konrad and Kortland, Baron and Baroness of Arn Hold,

Many wonderful things occurred at Arn Hold's Baronial Collegium. With the assistance of the populace of Arn Hold, Their Royal Majesties Reinmar and Alpreda have selected the Honorable Lord Alric and the Honorable Lady Catherine to be the 5th Baron and Baroness of Arn Hold. We are confident that Alric and Catherine will serve the Barony with dedication and enthusiasm, and we congratulate them as they begin their new path within the Society.

Their Majesties did recognize many individuals from Arn Hold for their endeavors in their respective areas.

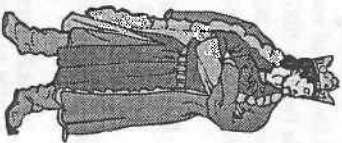

We were pleased to see the recognition of our newest member Gillana Atwater with and Award of Arms; Lord Godwin's tireless efforts in the archery community were rewarded with a Golden Gryphon's Pheon; and our beloved Don Gryffyd was sent upon vigil to be elevated to the Order of the Pelican at Raptor War. It was Our honor to recognize the enthusiasm of Benedicta with an Ygdassil and the artistic efforts of Lady Suzanna with a Mouffle. Vivat to all of these fine gendles!

Raptor War will soon be upon us and Dame Kathylene has many wonderful things planned. Due to space constraints and various other reasons we will not be at our traditional site of Grand Jean. Dame Kathylene has found a lovely mountain meadow only 27 miles from Boise. Please read the event announcement carefully so you can be apprised of all the changes.

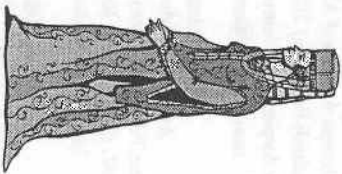

We look forward to seeing everyone at Raptor War!

For the honor of Arn Hold,

Konrad

years. Both are natives of Omaha, Nebraska, where they first discovered the SCA.

"Two of my three children were at home then and we thought it would be a fun family activity. Not to say anything negative about Calantir, but at the time, the Shire (now Barony) of Lonely Tower, was dominated by fighters. We didn't have any fighters in our family and we just felt like if you didn't fight, you might as well not show up. We played about six months then quit. When we moved to Boise, it took us about two years to find Arn Hold. We were a bit tentative at first, but when we discovered how wonderful the people here are, and how much ALL aspects of the SCA were valued, we knew we were home."

Lady Teckla's "proper" name is Teckla MacNaughton (of Unicorn Meadow). Teckla was her grandmother's and her great-grand-mother's name. Naughtin is her maiden name which is derived from the MacNaughton clan that traces its lineage back to the Pictish leader Nactan. When first playing, she used the Unicorn Meadow appellation but found that was not acceptable for SCA purposes.

Trish enjoys bead embroidery, cooking, writing and gardening. She is in the third year of a multi-year project on period flowers and gardens. She recently had the opportunity to present a lecture on period flowers to a meeting of the Southwest Idaho District of Garden Clubs. It was done in garb and used a PowerPoint presentation to show modern examples of the flowers and the paintings she used in her research. She has also taught classes at baronial events and Uprising on, "The Monastery Garden," and "The Kitchen Garden." She was recently named "Lady of Fief Holding," for her floral entry at Kingdom A & S. She is also a former Baronial A & S Champion.

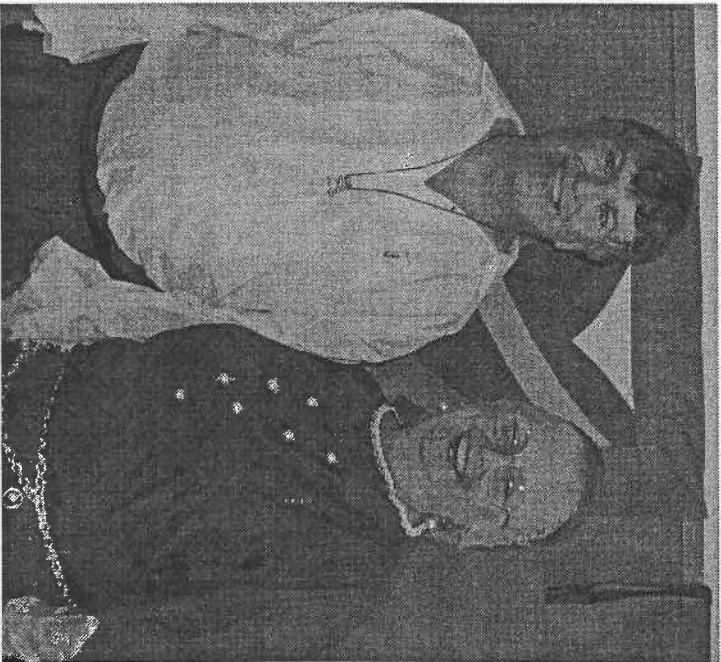

Teckla and Jean are "research nuts," and enjoy producing events for the Barony. They strive to find something "obscure but in period," and introduce it to the populous. They have done Greek-, Indian- (In the Shadow of the Taj Mahal) and Central Asian- (Wind Across the Steppes) themed events. They are currently working on an event set in Mexico from the perspective of the Aztecs (Treasures from the New World).

"We have the division of labor all worked out. Jean is the Feastocrat and handles the food from research through cooking and serving. I do everything else. We have a similar arrangement at home, except we share the cooking equally, as well as just about everything else. It's the only way to survive with my erratic schedule."

May We Introduce

 Lady  Teckla

Trish Wheeler, aka Lady Teckla, has been a member of the Barony of Arn Hold for about 8 years. For almost that whole time, she has been a Baronial Officer, the first Public Relations officer, and currently, as the first Regalia Officer.

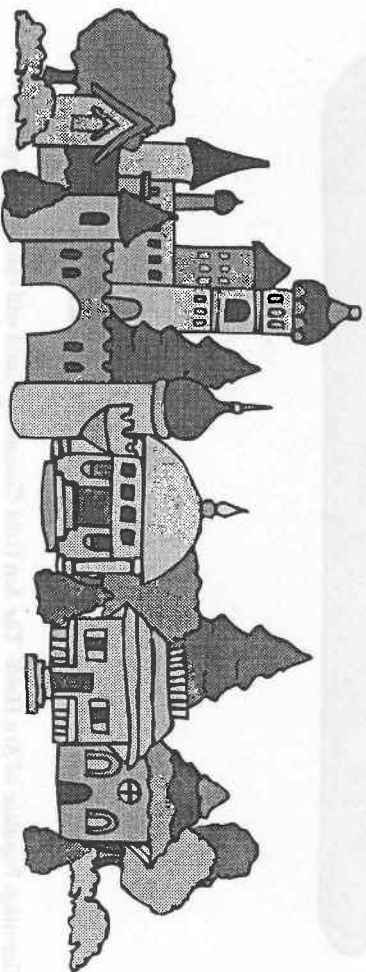

“I often use my background as a journalist to gain entry into a new group. There is usually a need for someone to do PR, or the newsletter, or such. I also believe that if you are part of a group, you should be PART of the group, not just a bystander. But that’s just the way I am.”

Being in the middle of things seems to be a key part of Trish. She just finished a year as President of the Board of the Women’s Business Center in Boise, she is a Governor’s appointee to the State Vocational Rehabilitation Council (where she chairs the Survey Committee), she serves on several other volunteer Boards, and she runs her own business helping people with disabilities obtain benefits and start businesses.

Trish and her husband John (Lord Jean de San Jean d’Angeli) have been married 13 years and have two grandchildren. The couple has lived in Boise for 10

NOTES FROM THE CHRONICLER

We’re adding a new feature and bringing back an old one. I’ve hounded the Guild contacts to get updates and articles from their activities. These have been added to a new section I’ve titled, “The Towne Crier’s Guild Notices.” Thank you to all who’ve answered my call by submitting articles about highlights, upcoming events, and activities of our various Guilds. What a rich, active, and diverse barony we have!

I encourage anyone who would like to add to the Moose Call to contact me with their ideas. Again, I would like to thank those who’ve already suggested articles and encourage you to follow through on those ideas. And remember, I’ll be calling.....!

Lady Teckla MacNaughton has graciously agreed to begin writing the “May We Introduce” feature. This was done in past, but discontinued for some time. This column will profile members of our barony. Fittingly, she is our first featured gentle this month.

Please keep the articles and ideas coming! Feedback is always welcome!

In Service,
M^rLady Auraelia de Medici
