Their Excellencies Missive

Whew! Now that most of the camping season is over, it is time to step back, regroup, refocus, and get ready for the winter. Here is a list of some things coming up this winter to keep us all from getting bored. Improve yourself by attending guild meetings, fixing up your garb, polishing up your archery or other martial skills, work on your heraldry, learn something new, or drive to another group's event

We are hosting Crown Tournament and Kingdom Equestrian Championship on October 8. We hope to see everyone there to support our King and Queen and our noble equestrians.

Do not forget Pilgrimage to Canterbury on November 19, get your best song, story, joke, dance, juggling or whatever ready. The feast has been wading around all summer and will be ready for feasting on soon.

As a Baron and Baroness of this group, we hear and see things that make us so very proud of you all. You are being recognized by your peers, by the royalty and by the kingdom for your works. All the awards and titles that Arn Holders have been getting lately show this. Keep it up and congratulations.

On that note, Arn Hold leads the way in creating a medieval atmosphere at events. We are delighted at how you are making an effort to keep the mundane items hidden away. Let us pledge to continue this trend by: playing of period music CD's or encouraging our live musicians to perform, keeping your coolers and portable barbs hidden under a period looking piece of fabric or under tables, replacing water bottles and soda cans hidden or poured into mugs or tankards, playing of period games, not modern ones at events. It may not seem like much, but makes a huge impact.

To continue to enhance the ambiance for all, one of our goals for this next year is to see much more heraldic display at our events. Everyone who has an award of arms is "Charged by the King and Queen, to create suitable and unique arms." AND DISPLAY THEM. For those of you who do that: Good job. For those of you who don't: Why not? Are you not proud of your awards? Your accomplishments?

Coronation

As we posted electronically, we again would like to thank you all for the amazing effort that was done during Raptor War. The event itself was well run and lots of fun. VVAT to Baron Alric and Baroness Catherine and their event staff. The emergency clean up went very smoothly and we were especially pleased with how everyone pitched in to help everyone else. It is nice to see how much we all care for each other.

Enjoy the fall weather, get ready for WAR, travel when you can, go to a guild meeting, and revel with friends and loved ones as often as possible.

Your humble servants,

Tor Don Butterberg, OP
Baron

Dame Rachel Ravenlock, OP
Baroness

Towne Crier's Guild Notices

Needleworkers Guild

The upcoming months will be filled with working on the Veil Project, and possibly some simple Christmas ornaments. We are having a wonderful time, chatting, stitching and getting to know each other. So if you're feeling sad and lonely, please come join in the fun, there's always room at the table. And we're happy to teach you, so don't let skill level concern you.

Rapier Guild

By the end of Oct, it will be too dark to fight in the park on Wed evenings. If you hear of a suitable indoor site for winter combat, please let me know. Otherwise, rapier will move indoors to my garage on Wed, 10/26/05 beginning at 7pm. Sunday rapier practices will still be at Julia Davis Park until the snow flies.
