Their Excellency's Missive

Greetings Good Cousins,

WOW! We hope that everyone has been having a good summer so far. Uprising was loads of fun and hope that everyone who joined us up there had as good a time as we did. Friday night's impromptu pot luck dinner and dessert reveal was fun. Thank you to ALL the people who helped us set up the baronial encampment. The Barony won the best portcullis competition. This, in no small part, was due to Lady Elle's wonderful stone walls and the fact that people worked hard to keep the entrance pavilion clean and welcoming. The prize was 5 yards of white monk's cloth, which everyone in the encampment agreed should go to her for her hard work. VIVATT!!

We have a new Shire in the Kingdom. We welcome the Shire of Windgate and congratulate them. Speaking of interesting things going on at Uprising, there was also the first Children's Court. We would like to remind our Event Stewards to do your best to plan for at least one children's activity during any event.

We would encourage you to start to plan for our next BIG demo, "Museum Comes to Life". This is our big educational push and chance to show off for the public. Please try to think of some "hands on" history. Things to look at are great and we want to encourage everyone to bring out their stuff, but let's get people "involved" in history and see if we can get them join us.

Thank you for all that you do. Everywhere we go, we hear great things about Arn Holders. You are amazing. Speaking of that, TELL US! about people who think would be good candidates for reward or award. They need to pass names onto their Majesties and Highnesses and to Ourselves. Send us an email, a phone call, a carrier pigeon ... Anything you can, just let us know. We hope to hear from you soon.

In Service and Friendship,

Tor Von Bütterberg, OP
Baron of Arn Hold

Rachel Ravenlock, OP
Baroness of Arn Hold

Equestrian Quest, Raptor War 2006

You know you've been training a long time for this. You are ready, but the challenge will be great.

First there are the four questions that should be easy; for you have studied them over and know them by heart. Then you must mount your horse, who runs as though carried on the wind itself, and you both must seek the lance. You will know when you have found it because it will carry your colors. Only this lance gives you the power to gain the message.

And once you have the lance, you will have to use it to get the message. The Message... the one message that must get through to Their Excellencies.

Gaining the message is only the beginning, now you have to carry it. First you must pass through the deadly marsh, where one misstep and you and your steed could lose everything.

Next you must pass the dragon. You wince as you remember the dragon. Only a special javelin can be used and you remember how careful you must be not to get too close or both you and your horse will be consumed by his blazing breath. But there will be treasure if you can win through. And you will win through for you must present The Message.

After the dragon, though, you only have one more obstacle to cross and that will be simple—a moat. You will either jump that or cross the bridge depending on how your horse is doing by the time you reach it.

Still, once you have gotten through, you must present the message, along with the tale of your journey to Their Excellencies. Surely, they will reward you greatly especially if you remain fairspoken and courteous. Remember the pride and glory of your steed! Remember the reward if you win through! Remember the cost if you fail!

For this is your Quest. The challenge to both halves of your heart—yourself and your horse. This is the QUEST

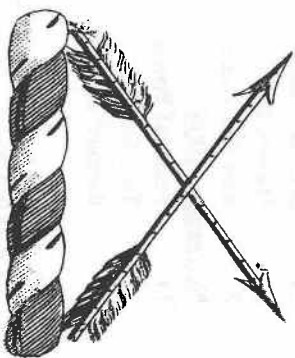

Raptor War Archery Competition

I still plan to hold a challenge of flight shooting, open to all archers whom may find themselves at Raptor War.

The rules are such: Whomever shoots the furthest - wins.
There will be the following 9 divisions:

- Men - Period bow
- Men - Open bow
- Men - Crossbow
- Women - Period bow
- Women - Open bow
- Women - Crossbow
- Child - Period bow
- Child- Open bow
- Child- Crossbow

With a prize for first in each division (9 prizes)

Raptor War 2007

September 1 - 4, 2006

Dawn crests over the valley hills. Early morning birds sing to each other an ancient warning. A lazy, circling hawk eyes the floor down beneath his wings. All is calm, still, with the breath of anticipation. Suddenly, a cry is sounded from below! Armor clanks, restless horses can be heard stomping, and the brush rustles from the sounds of feet hurrying along the creek bank. It's war! Knights lay steel against shield, archer's arrows take flight toward their targets, fleet footed duelists grab their daggers and blades, as mounted warriors take up the lance to face the challenge!

Beyond the noise of battle, a bustling populace waits with their anxious Baron and Baroness. They mass together, hoping that all their loved ones will return unharmed. They await their new champions, new stories to tell around the fires, and sing songs to keep spirits on high.

Join them! Their Excellencies Tor von Bitterburg and Rachel Ravenlock ask you to join them, their friends and cousins, as they mark Raptor War XV.

The Site:Rye Flats. It is a WET site for anyone over the age of 21.

Your well-behaved pets are welcome! Please have them on leash and prepare to clean up after them. There will be potable water available. Fire restrictions will be based on the conditions at the time of the event. Smoking in designated areas, only.

Site will open on noon, Friday, September 1, and close at noon on Monday, September 4 (Labor Day). Site Fee information is forthcoming and will be posted on the Raptor War website. Please find a link at <http://www.barony-of-arnhold.org>.

Directions from Boise:

Take your best route to the I-84 exit to Hwy 21/ Gowen Road. Head north on Hwy 21/ Gowen Road. Just after mile marker 27, you will reach the Grimes Creek/ Centerville turnoff. Turn left. (North), on this road for eight miles. The road is paved for the first three miles then forks. Take the right fork and continue on the dirt surface. You will cross one narrow bridge before reaching the site. The site will be on the right side of a large open valley. There are two entrances, the first is for equestrians hauling trailers, and those camping in RV's or trailers. The main entrance is further down. All participants and guests must check in at Troll.

NOTE: There is extra information need for those planning to attend the equestrian events and for those bringing horses. Please contact the Equestrian Steward if you plan to bring or horse or need a rental.

We do need volunteers for many positions! Please contact the event steward or sign up on the website.

Greetings!

The Website needs your help! If you are running a Guild, if you are an Officer, if you wear a lovely shiny hat, and have been playing longer than some of us have been alive, if you are new and excited and can't wait to get started playing, if you are part of the populace of this wonderful Barony... please start using the website. I need feedback so that I can be certain that all pages are up to date.

Simply use the feedback button at the bottom of any page to e-mail suggestions and corrections.
